

KEY MEDICAL/SCIENTIFIC AND LEGAL LEADERSHIP ROLES THERAPEUTIC GOODS ADMINISTRATION

- Shape Australia's response to COVID
- Shape the future of therapeutic goods in Australia
- Substantial senior executive remuneration packages
- Canberra-based with national and international responsibilities

The Therapeutic Goods Administration within the Department of Health regulates prescription, over-the-counter and complementary medicines, medical devices and blood, cell and tissue products. These key executive roles will provide high quality input to the development and review of regulatory practices, providing strategic and operational cohesion between individual projects and programs. You will use high level professional, leadership and management expertise to provide advice and assistance to the Deputy Secretary, Secretary and Minister and contribute as a senior leader within the Department of Health. Your proven capacity to lead change and work collaboratively with a wide range of stakeholders will be complemented by well-honed policy advisory, leadership and communication skills.

Head, TGA Medicines Regulation Division (SES Band 2)

As the Head of the Medicines Regulation Division, you will lead a Division of over 300 staff responsible for the pre- and post-market regulation of prescription, over-the-counter and complementary medicines, medical devices and blood, cell and tissue products. You will contribute to the strategic direction of regulatory activities, leading major reforms to medicines regulation.

To be a strong contender for this role, you will have a relevant postgraduate scientific or medical qualification and may have a background in academia, pharmaceutical industry, regulation or clinical medicine. You will be comfortable in leading multidisciplinary teams comprising large numbers of scientific and medical staff.

Principal Legal and Policy Adviser, TGA and ODC (SES Band 2)

As Principal Legal and Policy Adviser you will provide high level and specific advice on the TGA's and the Office of Drug Control (ODC)'s legislative and regulatory framework including potential improvements and advice on complex regulatory matters and regulatory compliance. You will provide expert instruction in relation to litigation matters and support the development of the Department's regulatory capacity. As TGA's and ODC's Chief Risk Officer, you will provide counsel to assist decision makers to assess risks and make decisions that are legally sound. You will also be responsible for leading 25 lawyers and support staff.

To be a strong contender for this role you will have a degree in law from an Australian university and admission or eligibility for admission to practise. You will have a solid understanding of administrative law and emerging whole-of-Government and cross-jurisdictional issues and the Department's role to complex legal, policy and regulatory matters.
